2 SAMUEL 4:4; 9:1-13

MEPHIBOSHETH, THE LAME PRINCE

File no. 63

Mephibosheth was five years old when his father, Jonathan, and grandfather, Saul, were killed in battle.

His nurse was afraid someone might kill him.

She quickly picked him up and ran.

But on the way she dropped him. His feet were injured and he could not walk properly again.

When David became king,
Mephibosheth, the lame prince,
was taken to a safe place
to live.

Then David
remembered his promise to Jonathan.
He wanted to be kind to his family.

He asked Ziba,
who had been a servant of Saul's,
'Is there anyone still alive in Saul's family?
I would like to be kind to them for Jonathan's sake.'

Ziba answered,
'There is Mephibosheth, Jonathan's son.
He can't walk properly and he lives with friends.'

Mephibosheth had grown up by now and he had a son called Mica.

David sent a message to Mephibosheth saying,
'Please come and see me.'

Mephibosheth went to see David.
He was afraid of what David might do to him.
He bowed down at David's feet.

‘Don’t be afraid,’ said David.
‘I want to be kind to you for your father’s sake.
The land, which was Saul’s will now be yours.
I want you to eat with me at my table.’

Mephibosheth bowed again to David and asked,
‘Why are you so kind to me?
Look at my feet.
I can’t work the land.’

David turned to Ziba and said,
'You, your sons and your servants shall work the land for Mephibosheth.
Mephibosheth will always eat at my table.'

So Ziba, his sons and his servants worked the land for Mephibosheth.

Mephibosheth, his wife and young son
ate with David every day, just like he was one of the king's own sons.

This way David kept his promise to his friend Jonathan.
